Love That Dog Up to and including 'March 13'

L.O.: to be able to: work out some answers about Jack's poems; copy out a few lines from a favourite poem, song or story to stick on your bedroom wall; practise writing the alphabet

1. Read the poems written in March up to March 14.

Where is the poem going to be put?

.....

What does Jack think about the poem by Walter Dean Myers?

.....

Where did Jack take the book with the poem by Walter Dean Myers in it?

Who is Jack saying sorry to?

Read the poem by Walter Dean Myers.

What lines/words are repeated in the poem?

.....

Why do you think the poet repeats these lines/words?

.....

.....

What are the poet's feelings about the boy?

.....

.....

What was the name of Jack's dog?

Now choose a favourite poem, song or story and write a few lines from it here:

.....

Now on a new piece of paper, or a computer, design a poster for these lines. You can use colour, pictures, drawings and any decoration you want.

When it is finished, put it on your bedroom wall!

(Don't forget to do the alphabet sheets - especially if you know you get confused between capitals and lower case letters in your writing)
